How should the most comfortable shoe on earth feel? Imagine your foot swaddled in comfort, surrounded in coziness, and adorned in innovative foot technology. This is the plateau of foot contentment that one reaches when locating the most comfortable shoes on earth. This type of foot contentment does exist and it exists within Foot Solutions. While this state of foot contentment is not styled into the latest stiletto there are some attractive shoe options that will have even the die hard heel fanatics opting for comfort rather than the highest heel.

Start your day caring about the health of your feet- Most people begin their day walking, running, pacing, hiking up stairs, and even trekking down hills. During this activity your feet are enduring a slight torture in shoes that are probably the wrong size and designed more for looks rather than for comfort. If you often experience back aches, corns, and poor posture it may have something to do with the shoes you wear. Unfortunately, stilettos, platform heels, and even pumps are not the ideal form of footwear when it comes to having healthy feet. For years women have sacrificed comfort for looks when it comes to wearing heels and even men are accustomed to wearing athletic shoes that are too tight and dress shoes poorly constructed. Thus, shoe lovers might enjoy a change of pace by starting the day caring about healthy feet. Fortunately, inside this unique store you will find a foot conscious retailer that is all about caring for the health of your feet.

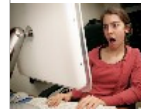

Foot Empowerment- Foot Solutions is a revolutionary store that offers relief from foot pain and aims to assist you achieve a perfect shoe fit. In fact, this store is quite unlike any other shoe store you may have visited in the past. For starters, the customer service is stellar. Upon arrival into the store you are greeted by trained professionals who understand and recognize the problems you experience with your feet. Still, what is really remarkable is the foot analysis that is offered to everyone for free. Trained foot pathologists will take you through a brief foot overview using state of the art technology. This overview includes foot mapping, foot fitting, balancing, and even diagnoses your walking patterns. By the end of the analysis you feel foot empowered to take better care of your feet.

Akaishi- Foot Solutions offers a variety of choices in comfortable footwear. Don't worry they are not all orthopedic shoes some of the shoes are very stylish as well as comfortable. For instance, the Akaishi line of sandals look good and are essentially good for arch support among other things. These sandals are from technology used in Japan. Some have removable soles, unique toe design, and even a modest heel height. An extra plus is that the sandals come in some great color choices.

Reebok Easy Tone- The Reebok Easy Tone sneakers come in some pretty cool colors as well and they are a really fun shoe. These sneakers have balance pods located on the bottom of the shoe. The pods ensure that every step you take is decidedly different from any other sneaker you may have worn. The design encourages toning of calves while you walk. The fit is shamelessly comfortable. The shoes feel so good you hate to take them off, however, in this first-class service store the staff does not allow you to take them off they do that for you.

Chung Shi Shoes- The Chung Shi Shoes are another incredible pair of sneakers inside foot solutions. These sneakers have an angled sole that promotes walking with a forward rolling action. Taking a walk in these shoes is a truly unique experience. Just walking around the store you are able to feel your muscles moving differently. Surprisingly, the new technology of the shoes comes from ancient wisdom. These shoes also enable the wearer to burn calories.

Choices for men- Foot Solutions has a vast selection of shoes for men too. One of the most eye catching shoe styles for men is from the Tauer & Johnson line. This line has golf shoes as well as men's dress shoes. The shoes are leather, handcrafted, and available in wide width. Men are sure to like the custom options and color choices available.

The most comfortable shoes on earth- While everyone is certain to find something that fits their comfort footwear fancy inside Foot Solutions. Even shoe fashionistas who brazenly adorn their feet in those staggering stilettos will enjoy taking a break from the usual tortuous devices of the feet. Perhaps, the key to wearing the rigid shoe mechanisms we enjoy so much is to try more often to treat our feet to some comfortable shoes. Inside Foot Solutions your feet are privy to some of the most comfortable shoes on earth! Happy Shoe Shopping!
